GNET

Mundi*Ware* is a software company providing value-added solutions that automate newspapers and magazines production phases.

Relying on a highly qualified technical staff & experienced business analysts, Mundi*Ware* provides products & services of its own, with international quality.

Mundi*Ware*'s most notable characteristic is its commitment to deliver cross-platform software products, being one of the few companies in the media industry to provide Windows and Linux-based products.

GNET Editorial System   Classic Ad System

We believe that MundiWare's* success is the result of the expertise of its professionals and the strong sense of partnership established with its customers.

www.mundiware.com